PREMIER POINCARE SO DECLARES IN A PUBLIC SPEECH

SAYS IF FRENCH DELEGATION CAN'T MAKE IDEAS PREVAIL IT WILL GO HOME

LLOYD GEORGE SAYS HE BELIEVES ALL CRISES ARE PAST AND CONF. A SUCCESS

(By United Press.)

Barle Duc, France, April 24—"If France cannot make her ideas prevail at Genoa she will cease to collaborate," Premier Poincare, speaking here today, declared.

The French premier declared he still maintained toward Genoa the ideals he had expressed in the Chamber of Deputies.

"Should Louis Barthou and his colleagues be unable to enforce these, the French would greatly regret the necessity of summoning its delegation home," Poincare said.

Lloyd George Believes Crises at End.

Genoa, April 24—Lloyd George believes the series of crises that have arisen at Genoa at an end.

The British premier, it was learned hopes to be able to return to London by the end of the week.

Three of the four subdivisions of the economic parley will have finished their work by that time. The economic and transportation commissions are putting the finishing touches on their labors.

The recommendations of the finance commission were similar to those of the finance conference at Brussels two years ago. Interest at Genoa centers in the work of the political commission, the fourth of the parley's subdivisions, which is dealing with Russia's debts and recognition of Russia.

The French delegation today entertained the British delegation at luncheon and it was believed to be a "love feast" to mark the end of quarreling between the representatives of the two nations.

Lloyd George's threat made Saturday to expose the French as troublemakers at Genoa had no little effect on the attitude of Barthou's delegation.

LINDBERGH LEADING "FREE MONEY" CULT

FORMER SIXTH DISTRICT CONGRESSMAN HELPS DIRECT NEW ORGANIZATION

Minneapolis, April 24—William H. (Coin) Harvey is chief executive officer and C. A. Lindbergh of Minneapolis is on the board of councilors of a new secret order, the Knights of Civilization. According to the official organ, the Palladium, copies of which were received in Minneapolis yesterday, the purpose of the order is "to overthrow the rule of Mammon that to be a woman's order which will work now dominates the world." There is co-ordinately, under the name of the Order of the Builders of the Temple.

The main idea of the movement as stated in its constitution is to educate the public to its theory of economics, which is to do away with lending of money for profit, practically abolishing interest. All banking and money lending functions are to be taken over by the government, "charging those to whom it rightfully loans money or credit, a tax only sufficient to cover the cost of conducting a government banking system, approximately a tax of 2 per cent."

Mr. Lindbergh, who appears as one of the heads of the new movement has preached this change in the economic system for a long time. He was a member of congress for 10 years from the sixth Minnesota district, but quit in 1916 to enter the race for senator, and in 1918 he ran for governor. He was the nonpartisan league candidate. He had written a book opposing the war, and publication of extracts from this book killed his chances of election. He ran for congress again in 1920 but was badly defeated.

No friends of Mammon are to be allowed in the meetings of the new order. Its local lodges will be called "Temples" and they will operate just like any other secret order, the Palladium says.

WASHINGTON HOTEL FIRE IMPERILS LIVES OF WORLD NOTABLES

CIGARETTE STUB FLUNG BY GRIDIRON CLUB REVELER BELIEVED CAUSE OF BLAZE

Washington, April 24—Vice President Coolidge, several members of congress and many other persons prominent in public, business and social life, were among some 600 guests of the New Willard hotel who were routed out of their beds at an early hour Sunday by a fire which swept the top floor of the 10-story gray stone structure.

The blaze had its origin in the ballroom on the tenth floor, where a few hours before President Harding, Mr. Coolidge, members of the cabinet, senators and representatives, foreign diplomats and others had sat around the banquet board as guests of the Gridiron club at its annual spring dinner and frolic. The fire was confied to the floor and the roof above, but tons of water poured on the flames seeped through to the floors below, causing much damage.

The clatter of their gongs woke Vice President Coolidge, who, upon going to a window, saw the apparatus drawing up across the street he called Mrs. Coolidge, remarked that there was a fire in the neighborhood and suggested that they go out to see it. While they were dressing they learned that the fire was in the hotel. Leaving their apartments on the third floor they descended to the lobby and Mrs. Coolidge was sent to the home of the vice president's secretary, Edward T. Clark.

Prominent Guests

Mr. Coolidge is the second successive vice president of the United States to have an experience in a fire at the New Willard, a blaze having routed out Vice President and Mrs. Marshall late one night nearly four years ago.

200 MASKED MEN RAID HOME OF ALLEGED MOONSHINER

COMMIT OUTRAGE ON TWO PRETTY DAUGHTERS OF ACCUSED MOONSHINER

RIOTING RESULTED, ONE MAN BEING KILLED, TWO INJURED, ALL MAY BE ARRESTED

(By United Press.)

Los Angeles, April 24—Secret warrants were issued from District Attorney Thomas Woolwine's office today for the arrest of a coterie of alleged night riders believed to have participated in a sensational raid and gun battle at Inglewood.

As a result of the Inglewood episode, Constable M. B. Mosher is dead, Leonard Ruegg will probably die and Walter Mosher, son of the constable, is in the hospital with serious injuries.

The fatal rioting started when two hundred masked and white-robed men surrounded the home of Fidel Eldunyan, a Spaniard, whom the raiders accused of operating a whiskey still. The mob is alleged to have diverted from its announded mission and to have laid hands on Mrs. Angela El Dunyan and forced her two pretty daughters, Maria and Bernarda, to disrobe in front of the El Dunyan home.

Six minor children, one of whom was said to have been near death from pneumonia, were ordered out of bed and thrust from their home without being permitted to dress, investigators said.

Possibility that nearly two hundred residents of Los Angeles county may be charged with attempted murder loomed today as the district attorney's office pushed investigation of the night riding raid.

"I expect to have the full names of practically every masked man who participated in this affair," Deputy Deputy Attorney Dean said.

If the participants are apprehended every man can be charged with assault with intent to commit murder, it was asserted. Conviction carries a sentence of from one to fourteen years.

A Draughty Door.

Doors that do not fit very well are often the cause of draughts. This trouble may be overcome by cutting narrow strips from the inner tube of a discarded bicycle tire and fastening them neatly down on the door frame. If the strips are cut exactly to fit they will not be noticeable, for the rubber is not thick enough to make the door difficult to close, yet it will entirely exclude all draughts. The rubber also deadens the noise when the door is suddenly banged.—York Post.

"CHALDEAN CHRISTIAN" FRAUD FOUND IN PARIS

Cunning Scheme Worked, It Is Asserted, Mainly in the United States.

The police of Paris have learned not to be surprised at anything, but it is not every day that they are called upon to investigate a case in which Chaldean priests figure, and this case, involving false ecclesiastics from Lower Mesopotamia, has ramifications in America.

A man calling himself a Chaldean priest called on the rector of the American church in Avenue George V, and asked for a subscription to help on the work of protecting persecuted Chaldean Christians. The rector wished to be rather more certain of his visitor's identity, but when the latter showed him letters signed by eminent American clergymen his suspicions were dispelled and he gave the man a subscription.

A few days afterward an individual who stated that he was a Catholic priest called on the rector and declared that the Chaldean was obtaining money fraudulently. The matter was placed in the hands of the police, who were not altogether satisfied with the statements of the self-styled Catholic priest, and when they arrested the Chaldean they confronted the two men.

An amusing scene followed, in the course of which it transpired that both men were Chaldeans and both had for years been engaged in a widespread fraud, then co-operation ending in one denouncing the other because he owed him some 2,000 francs.

There were many other men, all apparently Syrians or Chaldeans, engaged in the scheme. They worked in pairs, mainly in the United States, and in order to gain the confidence of their victims they obtained letters from prominent clergymen on any subject, afterward carefully erasing by a special process the whole of the letter except the signature. They then rewrote the letters to suit their own ends, and the authenticity of the recommendations was seldom questioned, as it was obvious that the signatures were genuine.

REPORT ON TAG DAY BY FRIENDS OF SOVIET RUSSIA

We wish to make this report public as we believe that the public who gave so freely on our tag day April 15, 1922 are entitled to know how their money is handled. The net receipts were $427.40. This money was deposited in the Brainerd State bank in the name of the secretary until April 17. It was then transferred to Axel Kivi, treasurer of the local organization, who in turn sent it to A. B. Martin of the national office whose address is 201 W. 13th Street, New York City.

For every dollar given in this country 98c is used to buy food in these United States to send to Russia. You will note it only costs 2 per cent or approximately $8.54 for the expense of our tag day. This expense consists of bills printed, also tags and badges. We wish to hereby express our sincere thanks in behalf of the starving Russians to the people who gave so freely. Also to the ladies who gave their time and assisted us in making our Tag Day such a success; also to the mayor who issued the proclamation; to the different labor organizations who indorsed us, and to the merchants for letting us solicit in their places of business.

Remember our roll call and pledge card campaign is still on, and when the campaign is over a report will be issued by both the secretary and auditing committee.

Thanking you again we are

"STAR DUST" ON TUESDAY

Business and Professional Women to Attend Benefit Performance—Block of Seats Reserved

All the members or the Business & Professional Women's club will attend the benefit performance, 'Star Dust," Tuesday evening at the New Park theatre, an entire block of seats being reserved for them. They will meet at the theatre at 6:45, and seats cannot be held longer than 7 p. m., so all members are requested to make a special effort to be there on time.

Mrs. J. P. Early has writen the following rhymed invitation to be sent out by the April entertainment committee, Miss Shefflo acting as chairman:

"On next Tuesday evening, before it gets dark,
About 6:45 we'l' go to the Park.
There's a very fine show which is known as "Star Dust,"
And you and your friends will not miss it, we trust.
For 35 cents you may see this good show
And then up to Emerson hall you may go,
And partake of a very fine business girls' lunch
And have a good time with a live merry bunch.
For this evening of sport has been planned you will see
By a few of the B. and P. W. C."

The Business & Professional Women's club is much interested in the movements to celebrate in a fitting manner Brainerd's half-century of prosperity, and in chosing this method of entertainment and this particular night, they will help to swell the Fiftieth Anniversary fund, for the entire proceeds go toward financing the celebration.

To enable them to give liberally toward this fund, and also to place a float in the parade, the club is giving four benefit performances at the New Park theatre during May, tickets for the four being offered for sale by the members, who have been organized into a selling force with Maybelle Grewcox as general. Colonels and captains work under her, directing the efforts of the selling teams.

This is the last week of the ticket sale and a meeting of the officers was held Sunday afternoon at the club rooms, Miss Grewcox making a report of the progress made.

Marie Adair and Islay McColl are still in the lead, Miss Adair's team having sold one more ticket than the teams of Miss McColl. The Vitagraph company are to give a banquet at the Ransford hotel to the winning team, and the club will give a National Federation pin to the girl selling the most tickets.

The pictures to be presented are special attractions, 'The Son of Wallingford," Alice Joyce in "Her Lord and Master," Henry B. Walthall in "Flowers of the North," and Alice Calhoun in "Peggy Puts It Over." There will be special features at each performance by members of the club, who have been rehearsing for nearly a month. The Glee club will sing also, under the direction of Marion Opsahl.

The tickets, if purchased under the club plan, will cost but 25 cents or $1.00 for the four pictures, but if purchased at the box office the price will be 35 cents, or a total of $1.40 for the four pictures. Before the first picture is shown, May 1st, all unsold tickets must be returned to the management, when a settlement will be made, and no more tickets will be sold after that date, except at the box office. Those who wish to aid the club should purchase tickets during this week, as the pictures are above the ordinary and no doubt will draw packed houses. By buying tickets from the members you not only help the club, but are assisting the Fiftieth Anniversary fund as well.

This ceelbration is for all the people of Brainerd, not only the old timers, but those who have been here but a few months. Every man, woman and child in the vicinity should take an active interest in the plans being formed by the committees and put their sohulders to the wheel to make it a sweeping success. We are all proud of Brainerd, which has weathered the ups and downs of pioneer life and has emerged a thriving city, with a brave past, and prosperous present and a glorious future!

Star Spends Days in Recovering from Realism

Realism is the one thing that ambitious stars and directors are most anxious to register in motion pictures. They are, in fact, abject slaves to it.

Hope Hamilton, star, and Hobart Henley, director are no exceptions to this rule.

The filming of "Stardust,' the intensely dramatic First National attraction, which comes to the New Park Tuesday only, had to be postponed for several days while Miss Hampton recovered from the realistic treatment which she received at the hands of a "brutal husband" in one of the scenes.

Noel Tearle, who gained distinction for his work in "Over the Hill," portrays the role of the brutal, overbearing husband in "Stardust."

But he was too gentle when Director Henley first ordered him to choke Miss Hampton and hurl her to the floor.

"Make it realistic, knock her down as though you meant it," commanded Mr. Henley.

Tearle tried again. Still the director was not satisfied. The scene was repeated several times, and when the desired result was finally obtained Miss Hamtpon went home bruised and battered, and remaining there for several days recovering from the effects.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Somebody told the editor of this "colyum" that Fatty Arbuckle wanted to stage a comeback. Then Hays started his investigation and it may result in a "fade-away" for Fat.

Indications point to a cold winter this summer", said a Brainerd pessimist.

And now it's a rush to have your battery charged and the old car out again. Roads are drying up and getting in serviceable condition. One can drive to the range, to Little Falls and St. Cloud and the cities beyond, north on the Gull lake road, ever so many places. Short tours are under way.

PARENT-TEACHERS

Of Washington-Lincoln Schools to be Held at Washington Building Tuesday Evening, April 25

The meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the Washington-Lincoln schools will be held at the Washington building Tuesday evening, April 25th.

The program for the evening will be as follows:

Talk—Mr. Bouma.
Solo—W. R. Greenwood.
Calisthenic exercises—6th grade of the Lincoln school.
Style show—Miss Oberg's sewing class.

After the program there will be an exhibition in the sewing room, of garments made during the year by the sewing class. All parents are urged to be present and inspect the work.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

Books have a way of getting themselves lost especially when in the company of other books. We find that quite a number of library books fail to return. House cleaning time is a good time to find lost articles. Won't you please look among your books to see if, by chance, any library books have strayed among them and return them to the library. We need all our books and are minus a goodly number.

The fine on all books kept overtime is three cents a day, but we will call this week, April 24-30, "Library Books Home Coming Week" and forget about the fines. If you feel that you'd like to contribute something, of course, we will be very glad to accept it. Just now our fines and rentals constitute our only fund for new books and will continue to be until the building has been redecorated. Please help to make this "Home Coming Week" a success. Remember that we need the books for the public.

Perseverance Class

The Perseverance class of the Zion Evangelical church northeast, met in the church basement Friday, April 21 and were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. G. Brooks. A large crowd was present.

Rebekah Club

The Rebekah club will meet with Mrs. Avery and Mrs. McCullough at the home of Mrs. Avery, 713 Pine street Tuesday afternoon. All Rebekahs are asked to come, and friends are invited.

This Pure Cream Stops Head Colds

Apply in Nostrils—It Opens Air Passages Instantly.

Colds and catarrh yield magic to soothing, healing, antiseptic cream that penerates through every air passage and relieves swollen, inflamed membranes of nose and throat. Your clogged nostrils open right up and you can breathe freely. Hawking and snuffling stop. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist. Apply a little in the nostrils and get instant relief. Millions endorse this remedy known for more than fifty years.

ODD FELLOWS ANNUAL BALL IS TONIGHT

All arrangements are completed for the second annual ball of Unity Lodge No. 194 to be given this eveniny at the Elks hall in the Citizens State bank building. All Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their friends are due to enjoy a very pleasant evening, judging from the large number of tickets that have been taken. A seven piece orchestra will furnish the music and plenty of frappe will be provided to quench the thirst. Dancing will start at nine o'clock and continue to the hour of twelve.

The committee on invitations has endeavored to see that every Odd Fellow in the city received an invitation and if by chance someone has been overlooked, please considere this as a welcome bid to come and you will be taken care of by the committee at the door.

Remember the grand time that was had last year. This will be a repeater sure.

How Many Stars?

We think of the multitude of stars and would in all probability say that on a clear, frosty, moonless night we see millions of them. In reality, on such a night, if we leave out the faintly luminous milky way, we see fewer than 3,000 distinct stars. In the whole starry sphere, of which we see only half of any given time, there are only a score of first-magnitude stars, beginning with Sirius, the brightest of them, and including stars like Orion's right shoulder and left knee, Betelgeax and Rigel, Vega and Arcturus.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR REVEALS HEALTH SECRET

Tells of Wonderful Remedy That Has Kept Him Fit for Thirty Years

The Civil War ended more than fifty years ago, and the veterans of that great conflict are rapidly passing. The soldiers of that period endured many hardships, were exposed to the elements and in many cases, were illy fed. These conditions led to chronic ailments of all kinds, such as rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, constipation, heart trouble and diseases of the kidneys and liver.

One veteran, Mr. Abram Arnold, R. F. D. No. 2, Campbell, N. Y., now in his 77th year and hale and hearty, tells how he has kept himself in good health. He writes:

"I have made use of Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines for 25 or 30 years and during that time they have never failed to do all that is recommended of them. I am a veteran of the Civil War—almost 77 years old, and was through fifteen hard fought battles, but am still living with the help of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills. I have a bad heart, and find these pills of wonderful benefit for this trouble. Anyone wishing further particulars may write me, and I will gladly reply, as I want people to know of this wonderful remedy."

You can buy Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box. This is a trade mark for your protection against imitations. — Advertisement.

TOWN AND COUNTRY COOP, BARGAIN DAY

$100 in Gold in Prizes Given Away at Brainerd on Wednesday, April 26, This Week

SALES DAY PLAN IS EXPLAINED

Sixty Merchants of Brainerd Join in Making the Event Wednesday a Huge Success

Sixty merchants of Brainerd have joined hands in a huge town and country cooperative bargain day set for Wednesday, April 26. Advertised throughout the county, it is expected to bring the farmers and people from towns and villages nearby by hundreds into the city, thus swelling the large local trade.

These pages reveal the wonderful bargains offered, but in addition to these bargains, the merchants of Brainerd will give away $100 in gold. There are no strings attached to this gift. You will not be required to purchase anything. Simply register your name in any or all of the stores. You may make a registration in each store. These names will be placed in a large hopper and at 4:30 o'clock the drawing will take place.

The first twenty names drawn out will each receive $5. Do not forget to register. Ask the clerk for a coupon.

Each of the merchants whose advertisements appear herewith, is offering one article at a price that will compel your attention. All lines of merchandise are represented. The prices quoted are for one day only.

The merchants taking part in this sale will display a card in their windows, stating that they are participating in the Community Sales Day.

Meet Your Friends

These sales days in other communities have had the effect of drawing out the greatest crowd that were found in the city at any one time. This makes it possible for you to meet your friends from all parts of the county. It is hoped to make this a real community day, not alone profitable economically but profitable in the human interest we have in each other. Come and meet your friends.

Not an Ordinary Sale

This is not an ordinary sale, as the merchants of Brainerd are determined to convince you that Brainerd is the best merchandising center of central Minnesota.

Sixty articles of merchandise are offered, without regard to profit. In addition to bargains advertised, many equally good bargains on display for your selection.

COMING WRITER OF FICTION

Little Jimmie Shows Promise of Rising to Eminence in the Realm of Imagination.

Jimmie, four years old, is going to write fiction, if his maturity bears out the promise of his youth.

James has not since learned the value of sticking close to facts.

He and his small sister were visiting a friend the other day. The young woman had some fine roses in a vase and was very proud of them.

"See my big roses," she exclaimed.

"We have nicer roses than that," said little sister, by way of preliminary.

"I don't think they are so big," said Jimmie. "We have some at home as big as a house."

Just then the young woman's father came in.

"How much do you weigh, Jimmie?" he asked.

"A hundred pounds," replied Jimmie, instantly.

"That's a pretty good weight for such a young fellow," the man said, with a smile. "You see, I weigh 500 pounds, myself."

"I weigh 1,000 pounds."

"Well, I weigh a million trillion pounds."

Jimmie smiled.

"I weigh all the words and numbers in the world," he said.—Washington Star.

Liquid Air for Cracking Nuts.

Liquid air for cracking nuts is the latest application of science. Experts of the national bureau of standards were appealed to for a method of breaking the shells of the chicha nuts, without damaging the kernels. They found that it took a weight of nearly a ton to crack the nuts, and that after that effort the meat of the nut was broken in many small pieces.

Then they applied liquid air to the problem. They did not freeze sold a piece of rubber and use it for a hammer, as is done in the classic stunt of physics classes, but they simply immersed the nuts in liquid air for 30 seconds and cracked them easily, without damaging the kernels. Now the physicists are trying to find out whether this method can be applied commercially on a large scale.

Chicha nuts are grown in South America. Their dense strong shells were used during the war to make charcoal for gas masks and the oil from the kernels is a valuable food, similar to copra.—Science Service.

RUSSIAN BOOTS LATEST FAD

The latest style in footwear for milady is the Russian boot, which seems likely to replace the galoshes for popularity. These boots are made in many styles and colors, ranging from black to a bright red, and are marked with many fancy designs. The picture shows one of the late spring styles, including the Russian boots.

BEADED BLOUSE FOR MATRON

Styling Along Domestic Lines, Strictly Cut; Softened by Embroidery Combinations.

In the collection of blouses, bends play the largest share in making up the decorations. It is pointed out that the waists are made up, not with the young woman principally in mind, but with the thought of the matron, and for this reason the styling is along quite domestic lines, strictly cut, rather than in the French spirit usually associated with the beaded model.

The use of beads is softened in many cases by embroidery combinations, while there are likewise plain embroideries, with the more extreme novelty registered in one or two models worked out in wool instead of silk floss. One of these shows a color combination of canna with a great plaque of gray embroidered on with the wool.

Canna and similar reddish tones, ranging down through peachbloom to mirabella, are lavishly spread throughout this collection. The canna is perhaps the most notable, either used alone with bead trimming or made the principal tone in parti-colored treatments, combining with the gray as mentioned above, or with bisque.

In such a model the lower part of both the body of the waist and the peasant sleeves is of the bisque, with the majority of the beading placed thereon. Ribbonzine braiding figures in a similar style in canna and gray, with the sleeves made wide at the bottom.

The lighter colors go into the making of some of the allover beaded numbers, such as mauve beaded in black and steel or mirabella dotted with pointed ovals made of the jet beads.

THE PRINCESS SLIP RETURNS

Familiar, Yet Altogether New Garment Occupies Prominent Place in Lingerie Wardrobe.

Those who revel in the pages of fashion and in the yet more delightful home of fashion, the shops themselves, have been much startled, perhaps, at a strangely familiar and yet somehow altogether new garment that is beginning to occupy a prominent place in the lingerie wardrobe. It is the princess slip.

The slim, figure clinging chemise dress and tight bodice that are still fashion's most favored silhouettes are responsible for the return of the princess slip. Many women will welcome it, for there is a sense of freedom and security attained by a petticoat hung from the shoulder that no petticoat which clasps one's waistline can ever inspire. At best separate undergarments make a cumbersome and bunchy effect around the portion of one's anatomy where smoothness is most desired.

Strangely unfamiliar! The princess slip of spring, 1922, is glorified and as unlike its full, many-gored and ruffled predecessor as the dainty camisole is unlike the full, starchy, awkward "corset covers" of not so long ago.

Trimming is noticeable by its lack on these new princess slips. These fit sheathlike, and whether of silk or cotton materials are usually made double to the hips.

Cretonne on Repp Background.

Included in the cretonne family is a new arrival—a cretonne pattern on a repp background. This idea of using repp in place of chintz is a clever one, for it produces a material quite as effective as cretonne, but of considerably lighter weight. A great many women have stressed their desire for a dress of cretonne, but refrained from buying one on account of its warmness and heavy texture. This new fabric is more supple than its older sister.

WILSON-TUMULTY BREAK FINAL.

FROM all appearances, the break between ex-President Wilson and his Sancho Panza, Joseph Tumulty, is to be as final as it was sudden. Jo. was the last, and perhaps also the greatest, favorite of the old court, but he has been brutally thrust aside by his autocratic master, accused of concocting a message to the Jefferson Day banqueters which he ascribed to Mr. Wilson, and which Mr. Wilson has sternly repudiated. The question which remains in the mind of the country is, Why, if this was to happen, did it not happen long before?

During Mr. Wilson's illness, from September, 1919, to March, 1921, Mr. Tumulty was virtually the President of the United States. He was a born spoilsman, and the present Administration has still much work to do in ridding the public service of Tumulty's servitors. The Administration is moving slowly and surely to rid the government service of those appointees whose allegiance is first to the New Jersey politician. Tumulty has had his day, and it is admitted that it was a glorious one so far as the garnering of pelf was concerned. As private secretary of the President he reaped his harvest in Federal appointments for a large personal following, and dictated policies inspired more by his private sympathies than by any regard for the national welfare.

Tumulty is not a political asset to the Democratic party, nor is he a friend of the public welfare as one who intermeddles in public affairs and offices. The party and the public, commenting on the rift between Mr. Wilson and his late secretary, will undoubtedly side with the former and say "good riddance" to the latter.

"PROFOUND IMPROVEMENTS" IN BUSINESS.

THE monthly survey of current business, just made public by Commerce Department, shows "a profound improvement" in business conditions in the latest statistics of commercial and industrial movements throughout the country. Optimism, always returning with the opening of spring weather, the Department declares, has had much to do with the recent increase in retail trade and better feeling prevailing generally, "despite news of floods, strikes, and a late crop season." This optimism, the Department asserted, is based upon better fundamental conditions in the country, which are reflected in the trend of reports received by the government.

Department of Labor statistics, made public at the same time, note a slight increase in wholesale prices of commodities generally classed as necessities of life during the past month. Advances in the prices of farm products chiefly, it was declared, were responsible for the change during the month.

According to the Institute of American Meat Packers, meat prices during the past eighteen months showed "tremendous declines."

CAMPAIGN AGAINST WEEDS

IT IS announced that eradication of weeds in the cities of the state will be especially emphasized in the campaign to be conducted by Dr. C. P. Bull, State Weed Inspector, in the 1922 drive.

All plans have been made for the clean-up of weeds this year. District weed inspectors for the six districts in the state have been selected, more than 100 local or county inspectors already have been named and fully that many more will be appointed before active work will start June 1. The campaign will continue with 200 workers in the field until Nov. 1. There are to be from two to four inspectors in most of the counties.

An attempt will be made to eliminate the Canadian and sow thistle, mustard, quack grass, and all kinds of harmful weeds, especially of plants of which the seeds are spread by the wind. The inspectors will also do the follow-up work in the territory where the barberry eradication work has been carried on.

DEFICIT IN 1923.

FROM THE United States Treasury comes the disagreeable news that the levying of additional taxes probably will be necessary to meet the deficit of more than $350,000,000 forecast for the fiscal year of 1923 by Secretary Mellon. The deficit is expected because of the great decrease in revenue from taxes, especially income taxes.

No consideration has yet been given to means of meeting this lack of funds by the high officials of the Treasury, but it is apparent that the deficit will probably have to be raised by taxation. Some of the Treasury officials, it is said, estimate that the deficit will run as high as a half billion dollars. The exact amount, however, cannot be accurately determined at this time. The figures mentioned do not include for the proposed soldiers' bonus.

IT WAS announced in twin city papers that Archie Vernon, a popular Little Falls attorney, was booked for appointment as United States District Attorney for Minnesota. The next day, however, a telegram from Washington stated that Lafayette French of Austin had been recommended by Senators Nelson and Kellogg and would receive the appointment.

THE DAUGHTERS of the American Revolution, at their Continental Congress held in Washington last week, urged that an international conference of women be called, to be held in Washington, for the purpose of "cementing international friendships through closer understanding among women of the world."

MRS. PETER OLESON, of Cloquet, who has filed as the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, may have to file again. She should have filed as Anna Dickie Oleson, according to an opinion from the Attorney General's office in a similar case.

NOW THAT Mrs. Peter Oleson has filed as the Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator, what are the disgrunted Democrats going to do about it?

Administration Puts Business in Government

Encourages Individual Initiative, Establishes Budget System, Reduces Onerous Taxes, Restores Public Confidence and Stands for Sane Policies

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE HOMER P. SNYDER (NEW YORK)

The Republican administration came into authority in March, 1921, pledged to put more business in government and to have less of government in business. That pledge has been liberally redeemed. One of the first things which the Republican administration did was to impress upon business interests that it was up to them to become self-reliant if they wished to become self-sustaining; that they must begin to work out their own salvation instead of running to the Government for artificial stimulus. Legislation has been enacted wherever it could prove helpful, but it has not been permitted to take the place of individual energy and thrift.

Simultaneously with the elimination of Government in business there was an injection of business in Government. Perhaps what will go down as one of the greatest pieces of constructive legislation of the last half century was the enactment of a law creating a Budget Bureau, which made it not only possible but mandatory for the first time in the history of the United States Government to conduct the Government's business in an orderly manner. It is largely due to the inauguration of this budget system that the daily operating expenses of the Government have been reduced in the aggregate over $2,000,000 a day under this administration.

The business interests of the country were given consideration in the enactment of the new tax measure. Surtaxes were decreased, excess profits taxes were abolished altogether, and the shipping interests of the United Stats—which include practically every business and industry—were relieved from the burdensome transportation taxes that were levied upon freight, express and passenger traffic.

The Edge Act to facilitate the organization of corporations to promote exports was amended in order to render needed assistance to business interests endeavoring to expand America's markets in foreign countries, thereby increasing production and employment at home.

By rendering assistance to the agricultural sections the Congress kept alive the buying power of over half the nation's population. This aid, although extended directly to agriculture, was of vital importance to business.

Although no act of Congress figured in the process, nevertheless, the influences of the Republican administration, of which the Congress is a part, gave such confidence to the business world that within a year from the time the Republican party took control of all branches of the Government prices of practically all sound securities advanced materially. The most outstanding example of this is the increase of 15 per cent. in the value of $18,000,000,000 worth of outstanding Liberty bonds.

As another reflex of the influence of the Republican administration, interest rates have been lowered from 7 per cent. to 4½ within 12 months, thus releasing money at a reasonable rate for the use of business interests.

No one has the temerity to deny that business conditions today, compared with a year ago, are not infinitely better and that prospects are undoubtedly for further improvement. There is no other explanation for this transformation in the business world except the 12 months' application of Republican policies and the certain knowledge throughout the business world that the influences and policies of the Republican Party, which will direct the affairs of the nation for the next two years, are constructive influences that make for accumulation rather than waste, assist legitimate activities, stand four-squared for the protection of capital and labor and stand equally firm against the fallacious theories of Communism and Socialism.

In brief, the commercial optimism with which the people of all classes in the United States face the coming year must be wholly attributed to the fact that all branches of the Government of the United States are now in control of the Republican Party.

SHIPS THAT FATTEN SAILORS

Modern "Tankers" Are Now Blamed for Added Weight Taken On by the Seamen.

Shipping experts continue to argue regarding the advantages of oil fuel over coal. At present the question is occupying the attention of medical men.

The adverse effect of oil fuel upon such surfaces as steel, canvas, rope and other shipping accessories are widely known; ships' doctors are now divided on the question as to whether it is harmful or beneficial in its effect upon sailors, a writer in London Tit-Bits states.

Sailors on oil-fed vessels are fatter and plumper than those who work on coal-fed ships. Some naval surgeons declare that the fattening effect is produced by the slight fumes exuded by the dormant oil fuel; others ridicule the suggestion, and maintain that the former are fat simply because they have less work to do.

"Coaling ship" is one of the finest exercises in the world for reducing superfluous flesh. It is hard work that has to be maintained at high speed all day. Ships vie with each other in getting their coal aboard in record time, and even after the operation is finished the sailors still have a few more ounces of avoirdupois to work off in cleaning up the mess below decks. Usually three days are occupied in cleaning a vessel after a bout of "coal ship." On the other hand, oil-fuel ships perform the task in about three hours.

Doctors are asking themselves: "Is the fat a healthy fat, or an injurious parasitic growth?" If a hammock is splashed with oil fuel, all the scrubbing and boiling in the world will not prevent a hole from appearing in it; and if it eats through double-ply canvas, what will oil fuel accomplish in the case of human beings?

"Tanker" hands are noticing that after two or three voyages they begin to put on flesh.

FAMED FOR ITS MARASCHINO

Dalmatian Town of Sebenico Really Has Little Right to Other Claims to Honors.

Sebenico vainly boasts of being the Roman colony Sicum, where Cladius quartered his veterans, and so styles itself in public inscriptions and Latin documents. But Sicum stood farther south, near Salona, at a spot still marked by Roman remains.

It is to be feared that Sebenico had a sadly ignoble origin, says the Manchester Guardian. The name is said to be derived from a word that means the fort from whence bandits watched the sea for ships which they attacked and plundered. The little Dalmatian pirates' lair remained quite unknown until selected in the early Middle ages by Croatian kings for their favorite residence. Apart from possession of a picturesque land-locked harbor, the only cathedral in the world built entirely of stone and metal, and the ancestral house of the Orsini, Sebenico has few claims to distinction. However, by some people Sebenico will always be held in high honor for being the place where they make maraschino, an insidious liquor distilled from small black cherries.

The Wrong Saint.

Childhood's propensity for getting names mixed was well illustrated a Sunday morning or two ago when little Richard, on the way to Sunday school with his mother and sister, met another little boy afflicted with St. Vitus' dance.

Richard was deeply impressed by the incident and asked his mother what was the matter with the little boy.

"Poor child," the sympathetic mother replied. "He has St. Vitus's dance."

Back at home, Richard rushed in to tell his father of the incidents of the morning and closed with the remark:

"And—and—and we saw a poor little boy who jerked all over. He had the Ritcomb Riley."

Only Fat Girls in His Office.

"I have found one employer whose 'bug' in hiring folks for his office is worse than the idea against bobbed heads and short skirts," lamented a young woman who was weary with hunting work.

"And what's that?"

"He won't hire any one—male or female—unless he has a fat, healthy, well-fed, well-cared-for look. I was talking to the girl who lets applicants in to see the boss. She was real sweet and kind and she told me I might as well not go in. I asked her why, and she confided to me that I was too pale, too delicate looking. This girl thinks it is just because he is known as an old tightwad and is selfish, and he doesn't want it said of him that even his office people look pinched and pale and ill-treated."—New York Sun.

A Day Dream.

"That was a smooth stock salesman in here just now."

"He was, indeed," said Mr. Dubwaite. "He hadn't been talking five minutes before I saw myself stepping briskly into a bank to deposit a few hundred thousand dollars, then strolling around to my tailor to order a winter outfit of a dozen suits and making an engagement with a friend of mine in the motor business to look at the fall styles in limousines."

"What happened next?"

"Oh, I woke up, glancing hastily about to see if I was still sitting in the little old office and wished him 'good morning.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

SHOWS VALUE OF EDUCATION

Bulletin Issued by Wisconsin Institution Gives Some Facts That Are Worth Consideration.

The Wisconsin Educational News Bulletin gives the following advantages of education:

It is a financial investment that yields the highest dividends.

It results in safe and sane citizenship.

It increases the ability and desire to serve others.

It adds to the appreciation and happiness of life.

It multiplies the chances of success in life.

With no schooling the child has only one chance in 150,000 of rendering distinguished service.

With elementary schooling the child has four times the chance of the one without it.

With a high-school education, he has 87 times the chance.

With a college education he has 700 times the chance.

Fewer than 1 per cent of Americans are college graduates, yet this 1 per cent has furnished:

Fifty-five per cent of our Presidents.

Fifty-four per cent of our vice-presidents.

Forty-seven per cent of our speakers of the house.

Thirty-six per cent of our members of congress.

Sixty-one per cent of our secretaries of state.

Sixty-seven per cent of our attorneys general.

Sixty-nine per cent of our justices of the Supreme court.

Hard-Luck Guy.

Because he was tired of having his residence used as a garage for runaway automobiles, C. W. Peterson of Davenport, Ia., has appealed to the city for permission to erect a concrete abutment in front of his home. Six automobiles backed down the hill into Peterson's front door last year. Recently a truck dealer dumped a stock of vegetables into the parlor and a moving van entered the house.

BREAKS up FEVER
A chiropractor would rather get a fever case than anything else.
Why? Because it is a common thing for fevers to break up after one or two adjustments have been given.

"FINANCES OF SCHOOLS OF CITY OF BRAINERD"

George D. LaBar Addressed Members of the Rotary Club at Their Gathering at High School

$90,000 BONDS ARE UNPAID

School Property Realty and Buildings Amount to Approximately a Value of $400,000

In his address delivered to the Rotarians at the meeting held in the high school, George D. LaBar, guest of the club, said in part as follows:

"I have greatly enjoyed the exercises of the day, particularly the musical program as you have developed some of the most remarkable vocalists of modern times. I feel highly complimented by having been asked to speak to you unofficially on 'School Matters'. I am not unmindful of the fact that I will not measure up to the speakers that you ordinarily have on these occasions and I know that it will be impossible for me to contribute the pleasant entertainment to which you are accustomed, but I will endeavor to give you some facts regarding school maters. I will not attempt to cover more than 'The Finances of the Schools of Brainerd.'

"This is a subject that has caused many long weary hours of thought and study by the superintendent and members of the board and should be a subject of interest to every organization and to each individual citizen of Brainerd."

The situation has continued to gradually grow more difficult each year, owing to the constantly increasing enrollment and the terrific cost of maintenance and the ever present lack of participation in the gross earnings tax.

I am not certain how much information Supt. Cobb has given you regarding this tax matter. Therefore I will briefly review it to show its connection with other financial matters.

During the last session of the legislature Supt. Cobb and some members of the board made persistent efforts together with other school districts likewise unjustly burdened to get a percentage of the gross earnings tax. Our efforts were not entirely successful although a law was enacted which we believe will be of considerable benefit to us. Chapter 271 of the Session of 1921 is the law to which I refer.

This provides that where at least 30percent of all the property of any school district is exempt from local taxation, and the maintenance of the school district is 35 mills and for succeeding years 40 mills, then such district shall receive from the state an amount equal to a tax of one-third the local rate on such exempt property.

Chapter 467 Laws 1921 will also give us another lift for supplemental aid above 20 mills for maintenance.

Last September in preparing our budget, our maintenance was above 32 mills with very little allowance for repairs, therefore we added 4 mills principally for repairs to our various buildings, which as you know are sadly in need of this moderate amount, maning our maintenance 36.05 mills, making our school levy as follows:

	Mills
Local, 1, mill	1.00
Maintenance	36.05
Bond interest	.97
Sinking	.73
Building	2.50
State Loan	2.75
Total	44.00

This is a high rate but not nearly as high as many other towns and we had a specific reason for it, as I will demonstrate in its connection with a possible new high school building.

First, however, let me state that our bonded indebtedness today is only $90,000 with buildings in 1920 estimated in value at $367,191.21 to which we can add the new mill school of $15,000, making a total of $382,191.21 less the natural depreciation. And to this added the value of the various sites making a value of our real property of approximately $400,000.00 to which may be also added several thousand dollars covering the contents and with only $90,000 bonded indebtedness and between $10,000 and $20,000 temporary loans.

This state of affairs seems to warrant a new high school building.

First, however, we must know positively that we have qualified under Chapter 271 or the so-called gross earnings law. We needed $3,850,000 of railroad property in order to participate in the benefits of the law. The railroad property as now certified by the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission gives a valuation Dec. 31, 1921 as $5,339,523.98 nearly a million and a half more than actually required.

We have every reason to believe we have qualified and expect to receive from $20,000 to $25,000 benefit.

Now you can see with this benefit and a little modification of the law how it would help each year in carrying part of the added load of maintenance. A new high school building I believe will cost from $250,000 to $300,00 and will mean a nearly twenty mills added tax.

The interest and sinking fund will be about 10 mills, additional maintenance about 10 mills more.

This latter item covers additional salaries of teachers in high school and grades, janitors, fuel, light, water, etc.

This item, however can be practically absorbed from the benefits of Chapter 271 by keeping our maintenance at 40 mills or whatever the legislature makes it in the future, which we trust will be less stringent say 30 to 35 mills instead of succeeding years at 40 mills.

The interest and sinking fund, however, must be met by local taxation. I believe, however, that with a new high school, a school tax of approximately 50 mills must continue for some time.

At no time during several years past has it been practical or possible to consider a large new building.

Last year we were obliged to construct the Mill school costing around $15,000 and this year a two-room addition to the Riverside school, costing about the same, is contemplated. These improvements are paid from regular taxation without a bond issue.

Building costs, as you know, have been prohibitive and interest rates running around 7 per cent, when today we could probably place our bonds at 5 per cent, a clear saving of $5,000 to $6,00 annually which would extend over many years, or an annual saving of about 2 mills on interest above.

This is one good sure sign of progress towards reaching our financial goal for better educational facilities.

The next step is to determine just what Chapter 271 will do for us and what change, if any, the next legislature will make. If favorable to us then I believe we will be in a position to make real progress on this improvement which we have needed for so many years. But I charge you gentlemen: Think well of what it will cost you in additional taxes and when the tax comes don't grumble. Build well for our requirements for many years to come, but we should not let our pride of having a show building create an oppresive tax rate for all time to come.

The day is not far distant I believe when the voters will be given an opportunity to vote on an issuance of bonds for this purpose, and I trust that I have made the situation sufficiently clear so that you will then fully appreciate the necesity, and that the Board may have your full cooperation.

HENRY TEMPLE HAS PASSED AWAY

Resident of Brainerd and Vicinity the Past 25 Years Died at Local Hospital Sunday Morning

LEAVES WIFE AND 4 CHILDREN

Funeral Will Be Held from the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday Afternoon

Henry Temple, a resident of Brainerd for the past twenty-five years, died at a local hospital early Sunday morning after an illness of some weeks. Mr. Temple was born in Bunde, Germany and came to this country forty years ago. He was married to Miss Matie Kluver who, with their four children, survives him.

The children are all residents of Brainerd. John living on Grove street; Mrs. Owen Peaslee living in Northeast Brainerd; Mrs. Oscar Orman on Holly street; and Mrs. Grace Fite living with her parents on the farm, just west of the city, since the death of her husband. There is also one sister living at Spokane, Wash., and three brothers, two of which are residents of Minnesota and the third living at Grundy Center, Iowa.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION PLANS

Vivid Pictures of Pioneer Days of Brainerd to be Flashed in the "Home Coming Week"

TWO MAMMOTH FISH FRIES

Costumes of the Styles of Fifty Years Ago to be Worn—Joyous Welcome to All Visitors

The Semi-Centennial Celebration will be held, not only for the purpose of providing entertainment to the citizens of Brainerd and their guests, but that our attention may be called to the experience of the past.

If we are to make use of the experience of the past, to build better in the future, we should occasionally stop and reflect.

Men, thoroughly acquainted with life and customs of that period in the history of Minnesota and, especially Crow Wing county, are searching for material and relics that are actually a part of its history.

The wanagan, the high wheeled millyard truck, the lumber jacks, the gambling devices, pictures of the hangings of the Indians on Front street and the Blueberry war, characters depicting the pioneer missionary on his skiis, etc. Two mammoth fish fries will be a feature.

The women will comb the town for costumes of the style of fifty years ago. One of the last of the old settlers of Crow Wing county has just gone to that larger home coming and we must realize that, if we preserve a vivid history of the old times in this county, we must begin to make preparations for systematic methods of preserving relics and material of all kinds, pertaining to our past history.

The Fiftieth Anniversary will stimulate a desire to refresh our memories and save for future generations, the interesting history of the old days.

HILL CITY BANK IN GOOD CONDITION

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, April 24—In a message to the Brainerd Dispatch, the United Press stated that there was carried on this circuit last week under the St. Paul date line a story that the Hill City State bank at Hill City had been closed by the State Bank Examiner.

This was an error which should be corrected. The bank should have been the Mill City bank of Minneapolis.

The State Bank Examiner announced that the Hill City State bank, the First State Bank at Hill City, and the only bank in that city, was in excellent condition.

In a telephone message to his son, T. B. Brusegaard in Brainerd, Thomas Brusegaard of Hill City, former mayor there and president of the First State bank of Hill iCty said his bank had reserves of more than 100 per cent above requirements and that they had no bills payable.

THE GOLFER'S CORNER.

Charles E. Mitchell, who has President Emeritus Stillman's old desk at the National City Bank, New York, has introduced a number of what, in the circumstances might be described as radical innovations at the country's largest banking institution, says the "Financial World" of April 17.

He is the sort of man who never can stay harnessed to an old idea, or to old formulae, provided he is convinced that the new will prove more beneficial to both his bank and its depositors.

Talking about his being harnessed reminds one of a remark made the other day by a man who had managed to squeeze in for four minutes between the one round after another of conferences which the head of National City holds from morning to night. It was the first time my friend ever had met Mr. Mitchell.

"Say, I would not care to be at the other end of a stiff upper cut from that man Mitchell," he said. "As the fight fan would say he must pack a wallop."

One easily could imagine Charles E. Mitchell fit at the half century mark. I understand that he steps on the scales every morning and religiously keeps his weight just at the right point. He plays golf just as all other big executives, with few exceptions, and all others who care for the game at all—with as much whole-hearted devotion as he places before his directors good reports about the state of his bank's business.

The men downtown who get their share of open air and real exercise have the glow of health, and that makes them doubly valuable to those they serve.

AMUSEMENTS

"Arabian Love"

John Gilbert, the William Fox star, will be at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Tuesday in "Arabian Love", a stirring story set in the Arabian desert with its sheiks, its outlawry, its cruelty and its charm.

Gilbert plays the part of a white man who has been driven by necessity to join a band of Arab outlaws and who finds the band a good refuge—until he meets a white girl captive from a looted caravan. He wins this girl from the band, helps her to escape, and falls in love with her. She thanks her gallant rescuer, and does not learn until their romance has progressed into a deep love that Gilbert is a fugitive charged with the murder of her husband. The story is said to have all the dashing romance and thrill of the desert life.

Barbara Bedford plays opposite Gilbert.

Buck Jones in "Pardon My Nerve"

When Charles Jones received the call to become a star in William Fox pictures he was prepared. That is probably the reason for his rapid climb into popularity with motion picture-goers. Jones is a rugged fellow, having lived an outdoor life on the range since he left school. He is a singularly practised and nervy horseman, and can throw a rope as well as any cowboy on the screen or off of it; and he can do the fancy stuff too—feats in which all well known.

His latest William Fox picture is "Pardon My Nerve!" which will be at the Lyceum theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

"The Sheik" to be Shown Here

"The Sheik," a Paramount picturization of the famous novel of the same title which is all the rage, will be the feature attraction at the Lyceum theatre next week on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 1, 2 and 3. This is a sumptuous and beautiful production in which Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino are the featured players. This is a magnificent picture, and one of the best and most popular photo dramas of the year.

Seeks Career as Screen Player

While a few society women have taken up motion picture acting as a profession, it remains for Alfred Schmid, millionaire and society leader, of New York City, to lead the made sex in this direction. Not as a pastime to while away idle hours has Mr. Schmid forsaken his social life, but to embark on a profession which he will make his life work.

Mr. Schmid is not only wealthy in his own right, and a favorite in society, but he has the distinction of being a keen business man as well. After due deliberation, he has decided that the motion picture business, through the acting end at first at least, hold his future.

Six feet tall, well built and handsome, he has the added advantage of screen exceptionally well, and is an important member of the cast which is supporting Richard Barthelmess, the star in "The Seventh Day", coming to the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday.

Irene Castle at New Park

"French Heels," starring Irene Castle, supported by Ward Crane, Charles Gerard, Howard Truesdell and Thomas Murray, will be the attraction at the New Park on Friday and Saturday.

"French Heels" is from a story by Clarence Buddington Kelland which originally appeared in "Everybody's Magazine."

Rings in Wood.

While all the trees of the temperate region and many of those from the tropics have growth rings, in not all cases are the contrasts in density and color great enough to show prominently in the finished material, says the American Forestry Magazine. Common examples are basswood, aspen, paper birch, tulip wood, holly, tupelo, buckeye, yellow cedars, and certain of the pines, firs and spruces.

SIEGFRIED'S SWORD IN BERLIN

Weapon Had Long Been in German Capital, Though the Hero Was Really a Belgian.

The theft of the sword from the statue of Siegfried in Berlin raises the question. What has Berlin to do with Siegfried's sword or with Siegfried himself? That hero was no Prussian, but rather a Belgian—at any rate, a Netherlander—and it was a Burgundian princess that he married. In his day the Borussians were an obscure tribe and scarcely heard of in Burgundy and along the Rhine.

Moreover, the difference in character makes it hopelessly incongruous for the Prussians of today to exploit Siegfried as one of their national heroes. Hagen of Tronje would be more fit, chosen at the moment when he treacherously murders Siegfried, when he steals Kriemhilde's fortune or when he brutally slays the infant Ortlieb. But Siegfried was honorable, Siegfried was brave, Siegfried was chivalric, Siegfried was not a Hohenzollern.

To exploit Siegfried and his Balmung as emblematic of Prussia, or indeed of the Germany of today, is gross impertinence perhaps. It is well that the sword is gone. The statue itself should follow it into retirement from a place where it does not belong. —New York Tribune.

Now Believe London Is Dead.

The Danes are at last convinced that Jack London is dead. A rumor had been widely circulated among them to the effect that the American author was living a secluded life on a South sea island and would not emerge until he had finished a momentous novel. A young Dane returned to Copenhagen the other day, fresh from San Francisco. He said he had taken a walk with Mrs. Jack London, near the Londons' California home. Coming to a boulder, he leaped over it. Mrs. London said: "Do you know what you have just done?" The Dane confessed his ignorance. "You have jumped over my husband's grave," she said. The Dane apologized for his seeming lack of respect, took the next train for South Brooklyn, and embarked on the Oscar II for the Danish capital, where he related his experiences. Jack London's Danish publisher, Herr Martin, said: "I never did quite believe that rumor."—New York Evening Post.

And Now the "Finale-Hopper."

That section of Manhattan called the Acropolis of America, extending from Riverside drive to Morningside Park, has a new designation for ultra-modern girls—"finale-hoppers." They are the young women who are a year ahead of the present or think they are doing now what the rest of their sex will be doing at some time in the future.

A finale-hopper is never in style. She is a trailblazer, a pathfinder. She anticipates style. As soon as what she is doing is taken up and adopted by the crowd she drops it and turns to something else that is absolutely new. That applies to music, art, dancing, dress and even slang. She is ever on the still hunt for anything fresh that has never before been done or known.—Raymond G. Carroll, in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Improving on Nature.

I plucked an autumn leaf in the park and took it to the studio. Showing it to the man with the wonderful relatives, I said: "How's that for an imitation leaf made out of a very fine grade of leather?" "Le'seeit?" asked the man with the wonderful relatives. Passing his fingers over the tinted surface, he remarked: "My uncle used to make imitation leaves." "I suppose," I queried, "that they were much better than this one?" He looked at me in pity and sneeringly said: "I'll say they was!"—Exchange.

Valuable Weather Predictions.

Forecasts recently issued by the British meteorological office predicted ten days of fair weather, probably a record for long distance weather prediction in England. No doubt wireless figured largely in this innovation, which, if found to be tolerably reliable, promises much for the agriculturist and others.—Scientific American.

USE LINER TO GRATIFY GIRL'S WHIM TO SEE BROADWAY

Isabelle Muir, daughter of G. P. Muir, Scotch steamship engineer, who has been building ships for the Spanish navy, wanted to see Broadway and its musical shows. She was on a pleasure cruise aboard the Spanish steamship Alphonse XII from Spain to Havana and Mexican ports. When she learned that New York was not a port of call for the ship she asked the captain to see what he could do. He communicated with the New York agent and as a result Miss Muir saw the sights of Broadway. Appreciation for her father's efforts in building up the Spanish navy is given as the reason for the courtesy extended to the young lady.

IN SNAPPY TOGS FOR SPORTS

Knickers Favored for Skating, Golf or Riding; Both Chic and Exceedingly Comfortable.

To enjoy any sort of sports one must be dressed not only becomingly but appropriately. For the woman who likes skating, golf or riding there are garments both conservative and daring. Knickers, until now considered the thing for horseback riding, have made a very successful reappearance on the links. They are both chic and exceedingly comfortable. A smart outfit which can be worn for hunting, skating or horseback riding is made of tan wool jersey.

The short, straight coat—military in cut, reminding one of the coat worn during the war by English officers—is lined in bright orange crepe de chine. It has a narrow collar ending in long, pointed revers passing under the belt and to the hem of the jacket.

Two huge pockets are lined with the same orange crepe de chine. A narrow belt of tan chamois fastens in front with a rather small metal. The sleeves are set in way up over the shoulders, long and as tight fitting as comfort allows.

With this knickers are worn. They are also patterned after those worn by English officers, and button way below the knee. The effect obtained by this ensemble is decidedly chic, becoming, as well as feminine.

To be worn with this outfit, the real sportswoman will choose a soft felt hat, not too large, so as not to blow off with the first puff of wind, and yet large enough to offer the needed protection to the eyes. For horseback riding it is very smart to replace the hat with an adorable little jockey cap made of material matching the costume and the peak in either black patent leather or suede kid. Whipcord riding togs also are very smart and have a goodly coterie of faithful admirers.

Seemed to Be Something Wrong.

Kenneth's mother had been to the hospital and Kenneth was waiting impatiently for her return. The day of her homecoming he took a chair up to the window and watched every auto pass with his little nose flattened against the window pane. Suddenly an auto pulled up, his mother looked out and waved, and Kenneth dashed madly out to the steps to greet her. Mother was overjoyed at seeing him, she began to cry, and Kenneth looked at her and said: "Ooh, mother dear, ain't you all well yet?"

Embodying An Ideal of Service

IDEALISM combined with practical efficiency are the motives inspiring the 25,000 men and women who make up the personnel of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The ideal of production is to create petroleum products as nearly perfect as is humanly possible. The expression of this ideal in tangible form has resulted in a vast and superlatively efficient service to 25 million people in 11 Middle Western States.

To perform this service our complete refineries are working 24 hours every day.

At the Whiting Plant alone the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employs more than 3,500 people and has an annual capacity of 14,600,000 bbls. of crude oil

7,750,000 bbls. of gasoline
2,190,000 bbls. of refined oil
1,800,000 bbls. of lubricating oil
35,000 tons of refined wax
100,000 tons of asphalt products
14,000 tons of candles
2,500 tons of parowax
24,000 tons of grease

These plants are the visible expression of an ideal. To bring them to their present degree of efficiency required years of time, intensive training, wide experience and almost limitless resources.

The seven men who guide the affairs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are planning constantly new methods and more ways to achieve greater effectiveness in serving the people depending upon the Company for petroleum products.

These men are working to perfect a complete service—first by manufacturing a maximum number of useful petroleum products and second by maintaining a complete system of distribution which shall carry these products to the consumer whenever and wherever he may have need for them.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

DON'T STAY GRAY! HERE'S AN OLD-TIME RECIPE THAT ANYBODY CAN APPLY

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out of date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

YOU CAN'T ENJOY LIFE with a sore, sour, bloated stomach. Food does not nourish. Instead it is a source of misery, causing pains, belching, dizziness and headaches.
